The Marquis Tsong has paid a brief visit to Liverpool, and on the 29th ult. he breakfasted at the Chamber of Commerce presented the Marquis with and address, to which he made a graceful reply, referring in warm terms to the cordial reception he had received. The arrangements which were in contemplation for a further stay in Liverpool were unfortunately defeated by the indisposition of the Marquis, who was compalled to return to London on the 30th ult. Though not such as to cause serious alarm, we regret to say that his Lordship's health is far from satisfactory. The Margais is a most indefatigable worker, and the constant strain on the system Tincidental to a tour such as that on which he has been engaged has culminated by reducing him to a condition of complete prostration, and consequently he was obliged to return to town suddenly from Liverpool, after a very brief stay, though it was his original intention to remain several days, and afterwards to visit Sheffield.

In the Queen's Bench Division the cases of Levinstein and Sons v. Adamson, Bell and Co. and Adamson, Bell and Co. v. Lavinstein and Sons were tried before Mr. Justice Mathew on the 30th June, and resulted in a judgment in favour of Messrs. Adamson, Bell, and Co., for $\pounds 1.750$ and costs. Messrs. Levinstein's claim for £20,000 damages being dismissed with costs. The cases promised to raise a question of considerable interest and importance to all persons connected with the China trade as affacting the discretionary rights of sale for the purposes of reimbursement by an agent abroad of goods consigned to him for sale against which he had accepted drafts. In 1881 Messrs. Levinstein arranged to ship goods consisting of aniline dyes Hongkong, and Yokohama, for sale, Messre. contended that the goods were to be sold only l at such limits as Messrs. Levinstein might impose from time to time, whilst Mesars. Adamson. Levinstein in their actions claimed £20,000 damages from Mesers, Adamson, Bell and Co., for breach of contract in selling under their limits. After the cases had been proceeded with some little way, and after some very pertinent remarks from the Bench as to the absurd position in which it was sought to place Messrs. Adamson. Bell and Co., the matter came to an end in their favour. Mr. French, Q.C., and Mr. English Harrison, instructed by Messrs. Harwood and Stephenson, appeared for Messrs. GREAT EXCITEMENT IN WALES

ABOUT A MARVELLOUS CURE. SIX YEARS WITHOUT

GOING TO BED. Mr. Epitor,-While spending a few days at the pleasant seaside town of Aberystwith, Cardi ganshire, Wales, I heard related what seemed to me either a fabulous story or a marvellous cure. The story was that a poor sufferer who had not been able to lie down in bed for six long years, given up to die by all the Doctors, had been speedily cured by some Patent Medicine. It was related with the more implicit confidence from DAVID CORSAR & SONS' the circumstance, as was said, that the Vicar of Llanrystyd was familiar with the facts, and could vouch for the truth of the report. Having a little curiosity to know how such stories grow in travelling, I took the liberty while at the village of Llaurystyd to call upon the Vicar, the Rev. T. Evans, and to enquire about this wonderful cure. Though a total stranger to him, both he and his wife most gracionaly entertained me in a half hour's conversation, principally touching the case of Mr. Pugh, in which they seemed to take a deep and sympathetic interest, having been familiar with his sufferings, and now rejoiced in what seemedto them a most remarkable cure. The Vicar remarked that he presumed his name had been An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the connected with the report from his having mentioned the case to Mr. John Thomas, a chemist of Llanon. He said Mr. Pugh was formerly a this Work stands unrivalled. All the new resident of their parish, but was now living in words which the Chinese have of late years been
